Grant Me This Favor

Pardon me for suggesting the advisability of paying your monthly bills promptly. Every little bit helps, you know.

Yours for progress,

Chas. Korrick

TWO SALES IN ONE—An Event that brings to your very doors seasonable Merchandise at prices far below any ever quoted here, or elsewhere for that matter. An occasion that, we pray, may bring us a step nearer the realization of our dream of years---the erection of a new home. The Mecca where our friends of old may continue to congregate and trade with greater comfort and receive better service. ¶ 17 years ago when the late lamented Sam Korrick opened a small store, the name Korrick was practically unknown to the people hereabouts. But it was not long before the Korrick standard "Where Quality Counts" was universally recognized. Destiny marked this little trading place as the embryo of the present large Korrick organization. Yes, indeed, today it occupies the pinnacle in the Dry Goods business of the Southwest with a record of integrity and square dealing of which we may well be proud. And why? Because the methods behind the man behind are right. ¶ Now, may we ask you to help us in the hour of our anticipated glory?

To My Charge Customers

Under ordinary circumstances I deem it a pleasure to extend to you credit. But right now you will favor me by refraining from asking for it.

Yours for more cash,

Chas. Korrick
